New Special Education Coordinators Induction

Event Overview:
This program is designed for special education coordinators that are new to the role or existing Special Education Coordinators who believe they would benefit from further training – as offered. It may also be an opportunity to provide contingency or succession planning to other registered teachers within your school. Topics to be covered will include: legal requirements, screening tools (CELF 4 screener & SNAP), profiling, ILP’s, Response to Intervention, Students with Disabilities (SWD formerly LNSLN) and the referral processes.

Who can participate?
Special Education Coordinators new to the role, existing coordinators who believe they would benefit from the training and registered teachers who may be being considered for inclusion as a future special education coordinator.

How the program will be structured:
This professional learning will be offered over two consecutive days at a location that recognizes the travel requirements of the registered attendees.

What is expected of participants?
It is expected that participants are working in the role of special education coordinator or are being considered as potential candidates for picking up the role.

What is required of the principal?
It is an expectation that all eligible special education coordinators have time allocated to attend these two days.

What can you expect from the CEOB?
Special Education Coordinators will be supported in their role in an ongoing manner by CEOB education officers: psychologists, speech pathologists and visiting teachers.

Registration:
Registration for this program will be available online and will close on November 30th 2015. Registration implies that participants have the full support as outlined of their school principal.
The early close off date will enable CEOB to determine the actual number of participants and the location of these participants which will support us in determining the number of programs that will be run next year and where.
Adherence to this closure date should make it possible to provide all participants with actual program dates and locations by Friday December 4th.
